Troubles of the Huegenard Family in Lake Township.

A Case of Infelicity on Holman Street.

The troubles of the Huegenard family are agitating social circles in Lake township. The Huegenards are an elderly couple who have resided in Lake township for a number of years. As their name signifies, they are French. For several years past there has been considerable trouble between them, and this week the wife came to the city, employed the Messrs. Colerick and filed a petition for a divorce. She also prayed for a restraining order to prevent the defendant from disposing of his property during the pendency of the suit, which was granted. The grounds alleged in the complaint are cruelty and abuse. After filing her suit Mrs. Huegenard packed up bag and bag-gage and left her home. It is supposed that she has gone to the house of relatives in Ohio. Huegenard, in the meantime, is disconsolate.

ANOTHER. Holman street gossips are much conderned at the alleged matrimonial infelicities of a married couple residing on that thoroughfare. The husband is an elderly man who runs a locordotive on one of our railroads; the wife is a very handsome woman, perhaps twenty years his junior, and the trouble—so rumor says—arises from hor fondness for the society of other gentlemen. She is the daughter of a former well known citizen, and returned here a few months ago after an absence of several years. A reporter for the SENTINEL was inves tigating the case to-day, but found those who knew the facts very recticent. Rumor says that a separation and possibly a divorce suit will be the results.

NOTWITHSTANDING the fact that agriculture bears all the burdens of taxation and supports all the industries of the country that do not flour ish, yet when a season is as favorable as this has been, the fertility of our soil and the advantages of our climate make the yield so great that, handicapped as it is, farming is profitable. This year our farmers expected to make some money, but now the railroad companies propose to take what profit there is by extortionate charges for transportation.

CASSANAVE'S STORY.

CASSANAVE, one of the Louisiana returning board rascals who swindled the people out of their legally elected president in 1876-7, has obtained himself again upon the gaze of the public It will be remembered that the members of the returning board were indicted by the grand jury for fraud. This called out letters of sympathy from John Sherman and other high officials, and the administration at Washington assured the returning board that they would be protected Thereupon they employed an attorney at a stipulated fee of $5,000; and after the trial he sued them for the fee and got judgment. An execution was issued, and it was found that CASSANAVE was the only member of the board who was pecuniarily responsible. Therefore his property was advertised for sale. In this extremity he appealed to HAYES, SHERMAN, et al. for help. He went to Washington and was buffeted about, snubbed, and outrageously treated in many ways, Finally SHERMAN offered him $100. which he declined, as it would not have paid the expense of his trip to Washington. HAYES, of course, did not offer a cent. Finally, after "pleading and begging" for seventy-five days, succeeded, through the assistance of Judge Shellabarger, in worming $1,750 out of the administration which was applied on the judgment, and the sale of his property has been postpon-ed until the 1st of January. Casa-NAVE has written an open letter to the president, in which he speaks his mind very plainly. The following extracts from an interview with him are very interesting rerding:

are very interesting rerding:
"You seem to have been badly treated"
"Yes, str.; I have been. I have stuffered which I negotiated at a heavy discount.

In 1876 I received no compensation whatever, but was dragged from my home and bosiness to Washington, and confined thirty-three days in the capitol, and afterwards incarcerated in the parish prison in New Orleans, and when I was discharged here, in company with others of the board, went to the sergean-ta-tamp, Jons
G. Thompson, to inquire what provision had been made for defraying our expenses, and to severtain how expenses, and to seertain how we were to get home. We were politely informed by that dignitary that we night walk home. My present visit is an additional expense. I have alvisit is an additional expense. I have al-neady been here over three weeks. If a part of this, judgment falls upon me, which is now probable, I do not know what the whole of my outlay will be. Heretofore my standing and credit have been good, as any honorable man in New Orleans who knows me will cheerfully tes-tify. My business was presperous and profitable, but since my conjection with WELLS, ASUMISSON and returning bound matters! have been principled in various ways." Have you never received anything in

He received no will a blush and asked us to take a petito sandwich and a cup of coffee. This is the extent of his favors to me. My relations to this administration have been like the railor of Campbillo, who worked for noth-ing and found thread."

CASSANAVE'S STORY. CASSANAVE, one of the Louisiana returning board rascals who swindled the people out of their legally elected president in 1876-7, has obtruded himself again upon the gaze of the public. It will be remembered that the members of the returning board were indicted by the grand jury for fraud. This called out letters of sympathy from JOHN SHERMAN and other high officials, and the administration at Washington assured the returning board that they would be protected. THE BICH CALIFORNIA BANKER.

When it became known that one of the richest California bankers had left the Pacific coast and transferred his base of operations to the New York Stock Exchange, all the shrewd financiers watched his course with keen interest to see how he would succeed. The result has emphatically proved the wealthy banker's sagacity. Besides having a much wider and more promising field to operate in, he is known to have been in several stock combinations that paid immense profits. By the combination method of operating in stocks Messrs. Lawrence & Co., N. Y., unite orders of thousands of customers, in different sums. into one vast capital, and operate them as a mighty whole, dividing profits pro rata among shareholders every thirty days. Capital in any amount from $10 to $100,000 can be used with great success in these pools. $25 would pay $100 profit. $500 would make $5,000 or 10 percent on the stock during the month, Messrs. The Rev. Dr. Morton has been for many years the rector of St. James's Church, Philadelphia, and has occupied deservedly a foremost place in the diocese. Some years ago the vestry pulled down their old "house of worship," "moved up town," and built a new and expensive church. It seems that the income of this establishment lately fell short of its expenses in the sum of $1,000, not a very large amount considering the its expenses in the sum of $1,000, not a very large amount considering the wealth of the congregation, whereupon the restry proposed to shelve Dr. Morton. They did not ask him to restign, but to become rector emeritus, and allow them to elect some one clee who could compete "with the activity going on in other parishes," and prevent the "loss of pewholders." vent the "loss of pewholders." While the engotiations were being had between the rector and vestry, a paper was prepared and very numerously signed by members of the congregation requesting Dr. Morton to disregard the action of the vestry, which he finally determined to do. The latest inovement in the inatter, so far as we are informed, has been the resignation of the vestry and the election of a new one. We gather these facts from a pamphlet which reaches us from Phladelphia from some unknown source.

Here is a case about which there can be, we think, but one opinion. An honorable, useful and long service demands something more from his purishioners than the creation of that new menstrosity, an emeritus rectorship—the pensioning off a man who is every inch a gentleman with deliberate intention of putting some one clse in his place who shall carry on the parater methods which shall differ from those heretofore tried. Wheat in Scipio will average twenty-five bushels to the acre. George Warner had nineteen acres that averaged thirty-one bushels to the acre.

A Spiritual meeting will be held at Wentworth Grove, near the Hicksville and Antwerp Pike, on the 23rd and 24th of August.

Mr. J. Boulton, of Scipio, found in dirt taken from a well that he dug recently, a round lump of some kind of mineral. It looks, where he broke a piece off, like brass. It is hard and as heavy as lead. Perhaps he has struck a bonanza.

Died—On the 8th fust, of abscess of the brain, Burton Hartle, aged twenty-five years. The bereavel family have the sympathy of the entire community, and for the kindness of those who rendered assistance in their affliction, the family return their sincere thanks. CAUGHT AT LAST. John Dyer, the Noble County Wif

The readers of the SENTINEL will remember the poisoning care at Albion, last February, when it was supposed that John Dyer murdered his wife by administering poison. The body was exhumed January 21st, and Dr. Teal, one of the attending physicians, delivered the suspected stomach into the hands of Prof. Dreyer, of this city, for analysis. Poison was found in the stomach, and a warrant was accordingly issued for the arres of Dyer, but he had already got wind of the matter and skipped out. It is supposed that the motive of the poissoning was to secure possession of a nice of property valued at about $2,001, which would revert to the survivor. The shoriff of Noble county has been on the still hunt for Dyer ever since, and had ugents in Knnsss looking him up, as it was supposed he gone there. A few days ago the sheriff received some information which gave him good reason to believe that Dyer was at LaCrosse, Wis. A little investigation proved that such was the case and he accordingly, on Monday, caused his arrest by the authorities at that point. He had been trayelling under the assumed name of Chas. Case, and had been trayelling under the assumed name of the sheriff Williams obtained 3 requisition and went of Dyer, but he had already got wind of the matter and skipped out. It is liams obtained a requisition and wen after Dyer and will probably return to-morrow evening.

WAR OF WORDS

Interesting Entertainment East Main Street.

Hon. J. L. Williams and O. A. Simer 'Making it Pleasant' for Rach Other.

An interesting war of words took lace this morning on Main street be tween two prominent and wealthy -Hen, Jesse L. Williams and Oscar A. Simons. Of course the subject was the water works, and the principal was the canal. How the conversation began our reporter did not learn, as it is stated the two gentlemen have not been on speaking terms or maintained friendly relations for some years. However it did begin and in a very few seconds waxed warm-red hot, so to speak. A crowd soon gathered and enjoyed the animated talk to the greatest extent. Mr. Williams is of a very nervous temperament and he ecame very much excited, talked in a very loud tone of voice, and SWONG HIS ARMS in a very reckless manner. Mr. Simons was not so greatly excited, and did not make so much noise, but he was decidedly in earnest, and he spoke in very emphatic terms. The entire question of canal and water power was gone over, and the conversation was interspersed with chough personalities to make it decidedly interesting to the large crowd, which kept swell ling until there was a regular at the corner błockade Court and Main streets. Although no direct epithets were applied, such "swindler," "ring," were used. As it was impossible for pedestrians to pass by, Marshal Diebl was compelled to

BAD BOYS.

Fort Wayne Overrun With Gamins.

The Course That Should Be Pursued Towards Them.

Yesterday was afforded another instance of the growing prevalence of crime among the young boys of our sity, who, in larger cities, are termed "gamins."

The instance referred to is the bind ing over of young LaDuke for stealibe a hat from Kiser's store.

Young LaDuke was heard to explain to a number of companions how be came in possession of the hat, and advised the boys to make a raise in the same way. He was, of course, arrest ed and will probably receive the punishment due him. Only a few days ago, young Dills went over the rond similar offense. It may look rather merciless to see a number of young boys sent to the penitentiary, while older criminals are at large; yet it is a well known fact that all crimionis were boys at one time and probably learned their iniquity in their youth. Sneak-thieves are the worst class of thieves in the country, and bovs are even worse than men, as they will prowl around and not be molested where older persons would most probably be arrested on suspicion or at any rate be most closely watched. It is therefore eminently proper that they should receive just punishment for their crimes; but the SENTINEL would advocate the house of correction instead of the penitentiary as being the proper place for them—splace where their surroundings would be more pleasant and where the boys would soon learn that they were there as much for moral improvement as for punishment. A great many bad boys are bad solely for want of proper training, and by a little leniency shown them in that direction, good men and respectable members of society might be made out of boys who "go to the bad" by being sent to the penitentiary and forever living under the stigma imposed by the convict's brand. they will prowl around and not be

The readers of the SENTINEL will remember the poisoning case at Albion, last February, when it was supposed that John Dyer murdered his wife by administering poison. The body was exhumed January 21st, and Dr. Teal, one of the attending physicians, delivered the suspected stomach into the hands of Prof. Dreyer, of this city, for analysis. Poison was found in the stomach, and a warrant was accordingly issued for the arrest of Dyer, but he had already got wind of the matter and skipped out. The sheriff of Noble county has been on the still hunt for Dyer ever since, and had agents in Kansas looking him up, as it was supposed he gone there. A few days ago the sheriff received some information which gave him good reason to believe that Dyer was at LaCrosse, Wis. A little investigation proved that such was the case and he accordingly, on Monday, caused his arrest by the authorities at that point. He had been travelling under the assumed name of Chas. Case, and had been there but a short time. Sheriff Williams obtained a, requisition and went after Dyer and will probably return to-morrow evening.

The Course That Should Be Pursued Towards Them.

Yesterday was afforded another instance of the growing prevalence of crime among the young boys of our city, who, in larger cities, are termed 'gamins."

The instance referred to is the binding over of young LaDuke for stealing a hat from Kiser's store.

Young LaDuke was heard to explain to a number of companions how he came in possession of the hat, and advised the boys to make a raise in the same way. He was, of course, arrested and will probably receive the punishment due him. Only a few days ago, young Dills went over the road for a similar offense. It may look rather merciless to see a number of few evenings since was arrested and young boys sent to the penitentiary, be an inside story to this affair, and if while older criminals are at large; yet so, it is not deeme it is a well known fact that all criminals were boys at one time and probably learned their iniquity in their youth. Sneak-thieves are the worst class of thieves in the country, and boys are even worse than men, as they will prowl around and not be molested where older persons would most probably be arrested on suspicion or at any rate be most closely watched. It is therefore eminently proper that they should receive just punishment for their crimes; but the SENTINEL would advocate the house of correction instead of the penitentiary as being the proper place for them place where their surroundings would be more pleasant and where the boys would soon learn that they were there as much for moral improvement as for punishment. A great many bad boys are bad solely for want of proper training, and by a little leniency shown them in that direction, good men and respectable members of society might be made out of boys who "go to the bad" by being sent to the penitentiary and forever living under the stigma imposed by the convict's

Our County History.

The Kingman Bros., are progressing rapidly in the collection and arrangement of matters for the work. The illustrated feature, which is likely to be of especial value in handing down to posterity a reflex of the present as we have it now before us, is one of the most instructive and interesting features. These illustrations, of course, embrace not only personal representations, but home views and scenery desirable for preservation as family mementos. The characters of the views and sketches thus far taken, is a sufficient guaranty of what may be expected from the labors of these gentlemen, and we would therefore commend them to the consideration

While this department has been making good progress in the develop-ment of plan and style, the historical and mapping departments have received their full share of attention. The township and other maps representing the geography of the county with exact accuracy, are nearly com-pleted and all persons interested in relieving this work from all error should call upon these gentlemen at their office in this city and scrutinize carafully the maps and pictures thus far completed, and judge them, of the meritary which they are

SELF-MURDER.

Suicide of Charles Smallhouse, at the Age of Seventy-Two.

He Locks Himself Up and Swallows a Dose of Strychine.

This afternoom a SENTINEL reporter observed Deputy Frank Falker shoeting down Calhoun atreet and around the corner of West Washington street at a rate of speed which showed that he was in a hurry about something. The reporter followed him up and found that he brought up at No. 130 West Washington street, occupied by A. Rosenthal and Fred. Smallhouse and wife and father-in-law. The reporter entered at once, and inquired what was the matter, and received the highly interesting inbreaking the buggy quite bad, and formation that nothing was the matter.

This, however, was not satisfactory, and he concluded to remain a short various parties time, when from various parties he learned that Mr. Smallhouse had shortly before dinner

LOCKED HIMSELF IN HIS ROOM, and refused to see any one,and accordingly the marshal was sent for to obtain audience, if necessary. Upon the arrival of the marshal, he was informed that Father Brammer had already gained admission to the room. and it was supposed that Mr. Small house had taken poison. Dr. Proegler was shortly after sent for and soon arrived. Mr. Smallhouse, in the meantime, made two directly contradictory priest, one being that he

HAD TAKEN POISON. the other that he had not taken any. The whole family in the meantime were in a state of excisement and grief rarely witnessed. On the arrival of Dr. Prægler he at once stated that the man was poisoned by strychnine, and the result soon verified the doctor's statement.

Although knowing that his patient was past all hopes of recovery, he made the most strenuous efforts to save his life. Emetics and antidotes were administered without avail. Although the patient recovered far enough to confess that he had taken one and a half grains of strychnine, and that he had carried it around in his pocket for a long time for the purpose of committing suicide. He took the dose and it was a successful deal, for apparently suf-fering no pain, he died at five before

He was an old man seventy-two years of age, and was WELL KNOWN IN THIS CITY. He had considerable real estate, among which is the property at 130 West

Washington street and also the block on the south side of the Aveline House. The suicide is ascribed to "temporary aberration of mind." Mr. Smallhouse had been drinking to excess lately, and fir to make it public. The coroner was notified and is now holding an inquest, the verdict of which will doubtless be in accord-

THE RAILMOADS.

The Wabash is getting out a number of chair cars.

Eight new engines, ordered by the Wabash, from Patterson, N. J., will arrive the last of this week. The Grand Rapids and Indiana, the Fort Wayne, Muncie and Cincinnati, the Wabash and the Eel River rail roads run trains to Rome City next Sunday for the Universalist basket

Last evening, shortly before clock, as No. 16 on the Pittsburgh road was leaving the yard she ran on to the side track at Bass's foundry, the switch having been left open by the carelessness of the switchman. Engine No. 172 was standing on the side track, and engine No. 220 was pulling out with No. 16. The 220 might possibly have stopped but the switch engine was at the rear of the train and pushed her into the 172, mashing up the cow catchers of both engines. The engineers and firemen of both engines jumped, and all escap his breast across a rail, sustaining a severe bruise and a general shaking up.
